DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claims 19 and 23 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

These appear to be duplicate claims.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 1-5 and 7-23 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Patil et al. US 5,609,817.

This patent shows biodegradable materials and articles formulated from a polymer and cereal grain flour, see the abstract and examples. The only difference between the claims and the art is the average granulometry is not identified as being between 10 and 2000um as claimed. This limitation is considered obvious. This is a broad range and the art does identify the cereal grain flour as dry-milled into granules, see column 4, lines 10+. As such, it would be obvious to select the flour having the granulometry as claimed.

The functional ingredients claimed are obvious from the disclosure at column 5, lines 13+.

Allowable Subject Matter

The limitations of claim 6 are not anticipated or obvious from the cited art.
